

AVIATION TURKEY

...was my dream of decades, an English aviation periodic as a global communication conduit of Turkish aviation.

Finally, I've found a media company who wanted to invest in it and we created Aviation Turkey magazine in May 2019 together. I have just been helping as the Chief Advisor for the Editorial Board and trying to find some possibilities to connect it with my other projects.

...coming issue, Aviation Turkey #8 is on the way!

AVIATION
TURKEY

Conceptual Planning & Design Phase (16.04.2019 Ankara)

*"Yesterday, the sunlight trickled through the clouds
Today, as we ascend, it shines on our face with all of its brilliance
Tomorrow, we will soar together into the future ..."*

Vision:

"To be a trusted and reputable publication covering all aspects of global aviation."

Mission:

"To become a reliable and elite window of Turkish aviation while following the development of the aviation industry within global norms, qualifications and values with the understanding of bidirectional flow between national and international ecosystems with content covering the status of intellectual, scientific and academic, technological, professional, social & cultural developments. To be a trusted and reputable publication covering all aspects of global aviation in the region."

Code of Ethics:

"Aviation Turkey publicly announces that it adheres to the 'Code of Professional Ethics of the Press' with each of employees while operating in the aviation industry with global norms, qualifications and values."
